DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-4, 7-20, 24, 37, and 40 drawn to a grain obtained from a rice plant wherein a mutation of an SBEIIa gene and a mutation of an SBEIIb gene reduce the levels or activities of SBEIIa and SBEIIb.

Group II, claim(s) 1-6, 8-14, 17-20, 40-41, and 43, drawn to a grain obtained from a rice plant wherein an introduced nucleic acid inhibits both SBEIIa and SBEIIb.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

The inventions are linked by the technical feature of starch biosynthesis genetics since Group II is not limited to starch branching enzyme sequences, but anything that inhibits those enzymes, and therefore the technical feature is not special because it does not constitute an advancement over the prior art. Goldsbrough et al (US Patent 6730825, effective filing date 09/09/1999) teach a wheat starch branching enzyme (see claims, for example).

Additionally, each invention requires features not required by the other inventions. Invention I requires mutagenesis techniques and materials not required by Invention II and does not require the exogenous nucleic acids required by Invention II.

Art Unit: 1638

Invention II requires exogenous nucleic acids not required by Invention I and does not require either the mutagenesis steps or the mutagenesis materials of Invention I.

For the reasons given above, the inventions are independent and distinct and are not so linked by a technical feature that there is unity of invention and restriction is therefore proper.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
